ABOUT FOOD EXPO

The Food Expo will be a three day event bringing in the best Services, Machinery, Equipment, Technology, Products & Services and allied industry stake holders in the Food sector on to a single platform for their Mutual Benefit.

Food Expo focus on providing an ideal platform to interact directly between producers & retailers and exporters of food and dairy products, processed foods, frozen foods, beverages, allied industries such as cold chain & refrigeration, processing machinery & equipment's, packaging machinery, quality certification agencies, testing labs and equipment's, post harvest technology, grading & sorting machinery.

Through this mega fair we have initiated a platform for bringing together the very latest Food Technologies and professionals to interact, understand buyer-seller needs, and bring awareness to all segments of end users.

THE FOOD AND PROCESSING SECTOR OVERVIEW:

India's food processing sector is one of the largest in the world and its output is expected to reach $535 Bn by 2025-26. A Strong Supply Demand, Supply side advantages such as abundance in availability of raw material and manpower. Export opportunities and Proactive government policies opens to door of India as a lucrative destination for the food processing industry.

While India's food and beverages market recorded a growth at a CAGR of 6.92% between 2017 -22, it is forecasted that this growth will see an increase to 9.94% from 2022-27.

According to MoFPI, As per an industrial estimate in the calendar year 2022, Asia Pacific emerged as the dominant region in global food & beverages market accounting to about 41.5% share of the global market and India' food & beverages market stood as the third largest followed by China and Japan.

The export of Agri Food Products increased from 13.70% in 2014-15 to 25.60% in 2022-23. The Food sector also employees nearly 12.2% of the workforce in the registered factory sector making it one of the most significant sectors in the country.

The schemes like "PM Formalization of Micro food processing Enterprises (PMFME) Scheme." with a budget allocation of INR 10,000 Crore aims to directly assist two lakh micro food processing units by providing credit-linked subsidies.

The Potential for the Food Processing Industry in India

- The Food Processing industry is expected to attract investments worth $33 billion and generate employment to about 9 million people by the year 2024.
- The total worth of the Food Processing sector is expected to be worth more than half a trillion dollars.
- India is expected to be the 5th largest consumer with annual household consumption to triple by 2030

Some of the major decisions taken by the government of India to boost the sector include

- Sanctioning 37 food parks across the country under the Mega Food Parks Scheme.
- 100% FDI permitted under the automatic route in Food Processing Industries.
- 100% FDI allowed through government approval route for trading, including through e- commerce in respect of food products manufactured in India

Food Processing sector in Karnataka

Karnataka, a flourishing Indian state, offers a fertile ground for opportunities and innovation. Its strategic location and supportive ecosystem, combined with a skilled workforce, favorable policies, and robust infrastructure, create an ideal environment for businesses and entrepreneurs to thrive and shape the future.

The State's agro-based industries are widespread, with a significant number of 54,905 agro-processing units operating across all 30 districts. These units, primarily in the MSME sector, have invested Rs. 4,42,879 Lakhs and employ 3,24,148 people as of 31.03.2015. Notably, the region hosts major players like ITC, Nestle, Gujarat Ambuja, Britannia, Parle, and Cargill India in the agribusiness and food processing sector, contributing to its overall growth and development.

The State's efforts to bolster the food processing industry through subsidies, policies, and programs are commendable. By tailoring these initiatives to address Karnataka's unique profile and geographical conditions, the government can effectively target different food processing segments, ultimately driving growth and development within the industry.

The State, being a prominent food grain producer, holds immense potential to diversify its agricultural output by establishing units for bakery, ready-to-eat, and ready-to-cook products. This would not only create new job opportunities but also allow for the production of a vast array of items using various processing techniques, ultimately contributing to a more robust and sustainable food industry.
